

Remember where you read this!

Those barmy Bostonians PIXIES have gone into hiding, according to our impeccable sources. It would appear that rehearsals for forthcoming live dates are "not going very well", therefore all press enquiries about the band are being "screened" and nobody, repeat nobody, is allowed any contact with them whatsoever until they sort themselves out.